

December 20, 2007

BI-LO donates food bags to Marketplace

The staff of God's Marketplace issued "a big thank you" to Chris Bishop, manager, and the staff of the Washington BI-LO Store for providing over 150 Christmas Hope food bags. The bags of food are being used at God's Marketplace Food Pantry for needy persons for the Christmas Holidays. "Thank you to all the patrons of BI-LO for purchasing a bag of food for this program," said director Dave Toburen. "Isn't it grand that you and I and large company can pull together to help make someone's Christmas a little brighter and a hungry child a little fuller. Thanks one and all."

