

May 7, 2009

Pauper's Day pays off

Peggy Anderson, vice president of Washington-Wilkes Ventures and The Jockey Club (left), presents David Toburen, director of God's Marketplace, with a donation from the proceeds of the "Pauper's Day" lunch of beans and cornbread to commemorate April 15, tax day. "You know, beans and cornbread make a good lunch," Toburen said. God's Marketplace operates a thrift store, food pantry and sewing center. Toburen expressed thanks to Washington-Wilkes Ventures for its continued support of GMI and its ministries.